

IVY O. WATERHOUSE

Ivy was born and raised in Gibsonville, NC. She graduated from UNC Chapel Hill in 2005 and earned her Juris Doctorate from Elon University School of Law. As a law student, Ivy was an active member of the Student Bar Association, Delta Theta Phi professional law fraternity, Women's Law Association and Elon Law Athletic Network. Through her work with the Women's Law Association, she organized events to raise money for women's health care issues. Additionally, she worked in the Elon University Wills Drafting Clinic and the Elon University Humanitarian Immigration Law Clinic, providing pro bono legal services for local clients.

Following law school, Ivy worked for one of the largest Workers' Compensation firms in North Carolina where she fought for the rights of injured workers across the state. During her work as a litigating attorney she was selected to join the Workers' Compensation Council of the North Carolina Bar Association. Ivy is currently serving on the Elon University School of Law Alumni Council. She previously served on the Board of Directors of CareNet Counseling, an affiliate of Wake Forest Baptist Health that provides professional faith-integrated counseling regardless of the patient's ability to pay. Ivy resides in Thomasville with her husband Chase and their son, Brandt.
